This week marks the beginning of our new 'Points Reward System'. All of you have been working hard over the last few months and we want you to reward yourself with the points you've earned. Your points will now mean prizes and you'll be able to spend them according to how much you have gained. The points that you have received from last term will be used to start your total off, you can then use this to spend or save depending on what you want to reward yourself with. Below are some of the points/prize examples you will be able to purchase. Ellie and Harry will be talking more about this during Monday morning's assembly.
